Changing the Life Trajectory of Youth

For many urban high school students, the dream of going to college and pursuing a professional career is often just that – a dream. At Genesys Works, we’re helping turn students’ dreams of career success into lifelong realities. Through comprehensive workplace training, meaningful internships, and supportive college and career coaching, we’re not only helping students see that a professional career is within reach, we’re arming them with the skills and opportunities that will enable them to achieve their career goals.

The Problem

Students growing up in low-income environments often don’t know what career opportunities exist, nor do they realize that a professional career is attainable, putting them on a lifelong path of underemployment and unable to reach their true potential.

At the same time, the disparity between what students are taught in the classroom and what’s needed for success in the workplace continues to widen. Across America, millions of young people are shut out of today’s workforce because they lack relevant skills and work experience, while millions of entry-level jobs go unfilled because companies struggle to find qualified candidates.

What if we could bridge that gap? What if we could connect motivated youth with real opportunity? We can. And we do.

Our Solution

A nationally-acclaimed social enterprise, Genesys Works transforms the lives of high school students by helping them achieve college and career success. By giving students the opportunity to succeed in a professional work environment while still in high school, Genesys Works opens up career possibilities and pathways previously thought unattainable.

The Genesys Works program is intensive, both in terms of what it asks of its students and what it offers in return. Over the course of 14 months, students spend approximately 1,200 hours in training, in a professional job, and attending college preparatory and career counseling sessions. Students complete our program with increased confidence, in-demand job skills and elevated career aspirations. We accomplish our mission through four-interlocking program components:

MISSION AND VISION

Our mission is to provide pathways to career success for high school students in underserved communities through skills training, meaningful work experiences, and impactful relationships. We envision a future where all youth finish high school equipped and empowered with the knowledge and skills required to achieve career success and a lifetime of economic self-sufficiency.

Our Impact

Starting in 2002 with only 10 students, Genesys Works has grown to become a national organization serving more than 4,400 students annually in five metropolitan areas: Houston, Twin Cities, Chicago, the San Francisco Bay Area, and the National Capital Region. Genesys Works empowers high school students from low-income backgrounds to achieve college and career success through skills training and meaningful work experiences. Our results speak for themselves. Genesys Works works.

A Sustainable Social Enterprise

The key to Genesys Works’ success is its win-win model: companies benefit from motivated, cost-effective resources while students experience a life-changing opportunity. Our unique social enterprise model allows us to be largely self-sufficient by providing an economically viable service to our corporate partners. By the third year in operation, our sites are typically 80%+ self-sustained through earned income, therefore highly leveraging the impact of philanthropic funding.

The Opportunity

For 17 years, Genesys Works has transformed the lives of countless low-income high school students through the work-based learning experiences we provide. But to achieve our vision of a future where all youth, particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds, are equipped and empowered to achieve career success and a lifetime of economic self-sufficiency, we need to scale our impact. This means expanding our programming in the five metropolitan areas where we currently operate, and launching new programs to serve the needs of more students, companies, and communities.

Join us as we work to permanently change the trajectory of life for young men and women in communities across the country.
